MEDIUM IS BRANDED FAKER BY SCIENTISTS.

Eusapia Palladino Fooled World Nineteen Years, But Is Exposed.

Savants of Europe Duped by Tricks of an Italian Woman, Hailed by Learned as Most Wonderful Spiritualist—American Professors Secrete Spies, Discover How Public Was Hoodwinked.

BY DICKINSON MILLER, Professor of Philosophy at Columbia University. (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The fullest publicity should be given if possible, to the finding of the committee of American men of science in the case of Eusapia Palladino.

The subtle Italian medium we have been studying is a kind of incarnation of specious evidence, a symbol of sophistry. Her art is to obtain credence under false pretenses. She has succeeded. Readers here have hardly realized the serious interest that she has sustained for nineteen years. Group after group has sat with her and published results. Imposing committees have issued elaborate reports in her favor. No other medium has ever aroused so much and so prolonged a scientific attention. These learned patrons have inflated her reputation and exalted her praises.

As the case stood in January last there had been no real progress regarding it since 1895. It was then proved in Cambridge, Eng. (what had been suspected before) that Eusapia would sometimes deceive the holders if she could free a hand or a foot and get it into the cabinet behind her. Last December this was once more confirmed by Edgar T. Scott of Philadelphia, who at one of Mr. Carrington's seances, put his hand under the curtain into the cabinet and came in contact with her stockinged foot.

TRICKS OF WATCHERS. After fifteen years it was time to take a step forward. She was watched by one scientist from a tiny window opened in the panel of the wall on the left, near the floor, and near her chair, at a seance. She was watched by another scientist from a large chest of drawers on her right, the drawers of which were taken out. A comfortable resting place for a man was prepared in it, and a small window made in the front of the drawers, which were left to keep a natural appearance.

She was watched from a hole in the top of the "cabinet." An investigator, lying on a mattress on top of a high instrument case, kept his eyes at the hole, awaiting the appearance of her arm or foot in the cabinet below. Finally (for I must report besides

CITRUS FRUIT GROWERS MAKE A FINE SHOWING.

Coast Attorneys Make Telling Points Against Raised Freight Rates—Figure Carriers' Profits at Eightfold That of Producers.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON (D. C.) May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The repeated representations of the citrus fruit growers made a splendid showing today before the Interstate Commerce Commission, and while the railroad attorneys faithfully presented their case, there was a suspicion in their manner that they felt that they had a long-coming cause.

Commissioner Prouty took a leading part in questioning the attorneys when they did not make the points they were arguing. At the close, Attorney A. F. Call said that briefs were submitted to them rather late and that time was devoted to submitting an answering brief. Commissioner Knapp said that ten days would be allowed for that purpose.

A similar tender was made to Attorney Norton, who arose to make answer to some statement by counsel on the other side, but he contented himself with a verbal statement.

A. F. Call, who made some very telling arguments last summer before the House Committee on Ways and Means and whose able presentation of the growers' interest from the standpoint of a grower, he being one of the leading orange raisers in Southern California, made the opening argument.

LATEST ADDITION TO YEAR'S LIST OF EXPOSED FAKIRS.

Eusapia Palladino, spiritualistic medium, who for nineteen years fooled greatest scientists of Europe, but who has now been exposed by American college professors as most stupendous fraud of year of great frauds.

A Mississippi River Tragedy.

Eleven Persons Believed to Have Been Drowned in Disaster.

Packet City of Saltillo Is Sunk With a Heavy Cargo.

High Current Drives Craft Toward Bank—Rock Is Struck.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) (3 a.m.) May 12.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Five women passengers, five men and one boy are believed to have been drowned when the Mississippi River steamer City of Saltillo, bound from St. Louis for Tennessee River points, struck a rock and foundered within reach of shore at Glen Park, twenty-four miles below St. Louis, at 8 o'clock tonight.

Mrs. Isaac T. Rhea, wife of the president of the company, and her daughter, Miss Ann Rhea, were among those drowned. Mrs. Rhea was dragged from the water while she was still alive. Rescuers worked with her more than an hour, but were unable to revive her. The body of Miss Ann Rhea was not recovered. The steamer turned turtle after the collision and was pointed up stream when the bottom was torn out of her.

Conflicting reports of the missing were received from the scene of the wreck and the officials of the boat company.

Four women passengers and three men, one a boat clerk, one a porter and one an undersheriff were said to be missing.

The boat carried twenty-seven passengers, among them women and children, several of them being from St. Louis. Among those accounted for over the long distance telephone at 1 o'clock this morning, in addition to the Rheas, are Magnus Dempsey of Cape Girardeau, Mo., agent for the line; Capt. Harry S. Crane of No. 145 Walton avenue, in charge of the boat; Miss Gertrude Sheehan, No. 4533 Natural Bridge Road, and a man named McIntosh. Tyree Rodes, Mrs. Rodes and Miss Sarah Louise Rodes, who had been visiting the family of H. W. Hunt of No. 2244 North Sarah Street, were known to have been on board.

It was impossible this morning to learn if all of them had survived. The boat sank within five minutes of striking the rock. The passengers, many of them in their berths, first were warned of the disaster by water rushing through their rooms. The upper deck, known as the "Texas," was the only remaining deck above water immediately after fouling the rock.

PASSENGER BRINGS NEWS. The first news received in St. Louis that the boat had gone down was a telephone message from M. A. Dempsey of Cape Girardeau, who was a passenger.

Dempsey was one of those thrown from the boat into the water. He swam to the shore through the floating wreckage, and made his way to Glen Park.

After sending his message to St. Louis, Dempsey started to walk to the city to get help for the men and women marooned at Glen Park, which is a lime kiln point.

An automobile containing relatives of several passengers of the ill-fated boat left St. Louis at midnight to go to the rescue. Peter McLoon, superintendent of a cement company plant at Glen Park, saw the boat sink and went to the rescue of the passengers. He was followed by his entire crew, and they worked valiantly to drag the struggling passengers from the water. After they were taken ashore, they were given shelter in the lime company boarding-house.

ALMA KELLNER FOUND? Report Says Kidnaped Child Is With Gypsy Family—Story Not Confirmed.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LEXINGTON (Ky.) May 11.—A special to The Herald from London, Ky., says that Alma Kellner, the Louisville child, kidnaped last winter, was found today at Graye, Ky., with a Gypsy fortune teller. The report is not confirmed.

STRIKERS RESTRAINED. LINCOLN (Nebr.) May 11.—In the Federal Court this morning Judge Thomas C. Munger, on application of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad, issued a temporary restraining order against the striking boiler-makers recently employed in the railroad shops at Havelock. Accompanying the petition, affidavits were filed charging assaults by the strikers upon non-union men. The men accused are restrained from interfering or hindering those now employed in the shops.

BLACK HAND CONVICTED. NEW YORK, May 11.—A verdict of guilty was found today in the Caruso "black hand" case in Brooklyn. The man on trial was Antonio Misana, accused of attempting to extort $15,000 from the singer. Misana will be sentenced on Monday.

GRIEF CHOKES
HIS EULOGISTS.Parliament Leaders Lament
Edward VII.Premier All But Breaks
Down in Speech.Doctors Say Political Worries Hastened End.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

LONDON, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Profound emotion characterized today's proceedings in both Houses of Parliament, when messages of condolence were adopted to be presented to King George and his widowed mother.

Prime Minister Asquith almost broke down in the House of Commons when speaking of the King's sudden death, and "heartfelt sympathy in his grievous affliction," while congratulating him upon his accession to the throne.

In making his motion to adopt the address, Mr. Asquith spoke of the reign of "the great King suddenly taken from us," as years crowded with moving events throughout the empire, adding:

"In our relations with foreign countries they have been years of growing friendships and new understandings—strong and sure safeguards of the peace of mankind. Within the empire the sense of independence, the consciousness of common interests and common risks and of the ever-tightening bonds of cooperative unity has been developed as never before."

"Here at home and by way of contrast, controversial issues of the gravest kind, economic, social and constitutional, have ripened with rapid maturity. In all of these multifarious manifestations of our national and imperial life history will assign a part of particular dignity and authority to the great ruler whom we have lost. In external affairs his powerful personal influence was directed steadily and ceaselessly toward avoiding not only wars, but the causes and pretexts of wars, and he will earn the title which he will always be remembered—'The Peacemaker of the World.'"

The Premier then made an expression of condolence to the Queen Mother, assuring her that the House of Commons and the nation would ever preserve toward her sentiments of unalterable reverence and affection.

While he was speaking, Mr. Asquith was obviously deeply affected. When he expressed the sympathy which the House felt for the Queen Mother he all but broke down.

Speaking along similar lines in the House of Lords, the Earl of Crewe, was well-nigh overcome with emotion and concluded his remarks with difficulty.

DOCTORS SAY WORRY HASTENED HIS DEATH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, May 11.—Parliament paid a high tribute to the memory of King Edward today, adopting addresses of condolence and congratulations to the new King.

Premier Asquith, in the House of Commons, and the Earl of Crewe, in the House of Lords, delivered eulogies on Edward VII.

The day was chiefly devoted to recording the nation's official condolences to the royal family. King George and the Queen Mother received at Marlborough and Buckingham Palace, respectively, delegations from the Lords and Commons, bearing the resolutions.

The announcement that ex-President Roosevelt will attend the funeral as the special representative of the United States has been received with great satisfaction by the British public.

Among the numerous functions abandoned or indefinitely postponed owing to the death of the King is the royal military tournament.

That King Edward's death was partly due to worry over the political situation is officially declared in a statement regarding his illness which his physicians, Sir Francis Laking, Sir James Reid and Sir Richard Douglas Powell, are publishing over their signatures in the Lancet tomorrow.

The statement says:

"His Majesty had for some years suffered from emphysema, with attendant bronchial catarrh, signs of which were permanently present at the base of the lungs. On several occasions digestive disturbances had caused his medical attendants to realize His Majesty no longer had reserve constitutional power which had stood him in such splendid stead after his serious operation in 1902, and that any inter-current catarrh or bronchial attack of a serious kind would at once call upon both heart and lungs for their fullest effort."

"It must be said that those around him knew how earnestly concerned he was at the present political position of political affairs, and this fact should not be lost sight of in all-round consideration of the King's health."

Referring to the King's recent visit to Biarritz, the statement says:

"The first night in Paris his majesty had a severe attack of acute indigestion with subsequent dyspnoea (shortness of breath). On his arrival at Biarritz this developed into a bronchial attack, causing his physicians great anxiety. This passed off and his majesty returned better in every way, but he contracted a chill at Sandringham while inspecting the gardens."

STICKS TO STATE BUSINESS.

On his return to London, the statement continues, from May 3, the attacks of dyspnoea increased, although the King insisted upon attending to business of state as late as Thursday, May 5.

"On that day, the physicians added, 'the attacks became more frequent and distressing, and with increasing cyanosis, gravely suggestive of threatened cardiac failure. With the King's permission, the doctors issued the first bulletin on Thursday, but not until it was seen by His Majesty, who somewhat modified its terms.'"

"From Friday morning his condition rapidly became worse. There were several dangerous attacks and his majesty only rallied by the use of powerful remedies."

"At 3 p.m. consciousness failed. The end came at 11:45 o'clock, after a prolonged period of perfect calm."

Empress Dowager Marie of Russia, a sister of Queen Alexandra, arrived here today, accompanied by Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch, younger brother of Emperor Nicholas, who will be the official representative of the Russian government at the funeral of Edward VII.

HOUSE VOICES SYMPATHY.

Upon a motion of Premier Asquith, seconded by A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, the House of Commons adopted unanimously an address to be presented to King George in which His Majesty was assured of the heartfelt sympathy of the lower chamber in his grievous affliction, and in which also was expressed the congratulations of the House upon his accession. The address proceeds:

"We will ever remember with grateful affection the zeal and success with which our late sovereign labored to consolidate the peace and concord of the world, to aid every merciful endeavor for the alleviation of human suffering, and to unite in justice and freedom all races and classes of his subjects with his imperial throne."

"We beg to offer Your Majesty our loyal congratulations on your auspicious accession and we assure Your Majesty of our devotion to his royal person and our sure conviction that his reign will, under the favor of divine providence, be distinguished by unswerving efforts to promote the virtue and contentment of the realm and to guard the rights and liberties of His Majesty's faithful people."

LONDON PLANS FOR ROOSEVELT'S VISIT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] LONDON, May 11.—After consulting with Mr. Roosevelt, the committee of the corporation decided today to present the former President with the honorary freedom of the city of London on May 31, the date originally chosen.

Instead of the formal luncheon planned, however, there will be an informal reception for which 1000 invitations will be issued.

PITTSBURGH OFFICIAL ARRESTED.

PITTSBURGH, May 11.—A warrant was issued today for the arrest of Joseph G. Armstrong, director of the department of public works in the city of Pittsburgh, charging him with forgery, perjury and false pretenses.

Director Armstrong is charged with unlawfully and fraudulently signing a payroll, for the purpose of cheating and defrauding the city.

GOVERNOR'S GOT ENOUGH.

MADISON (Wis.) May 11.—Gov. Davidson, it is authoritatively announced, will not be a candidate for re-nomination.

COURT PROBLEM.

It is not necessary for the two wives to determine which is the one widow.

Alexander Heymann, who is the attorney for Mrs. Grace Gates Benson, intimates that he has such a will in his possession in which Mrs. Grace Gates Benson is named as the executrix. Even here the complications are somewhat sensational statement:

"We have not decided whether we will file the will or not. There are reasons which may lead us to decide not to file it. We will make up our minds tomorrow."

Hynes made a thorough search of Benson's office today but found nothing. The reason why Mrs. Grace Gates Benson may not think it necessary to file the will is that she appears to be possessed of much money.

Benson had been supposed to own, including the automobile and the house on Lombard street. Hynes also discovers that the Walnut Creek property is incorporated and also mortgaged.

THREE STATES RAVAGED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WAUSAU (Wis.) May 11.—Forest fires have leveled the south half of the town of Mosinee, Marathon county. Just before wire communication was cut off early today, word came that a number of buildings had been destroyed, including ten residences, four general stores and the postoffice.

The last report said the fire was under control.

LEGISLATOR CONFESSES HE WAS PAID FOR LORIMER VOTE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, May 11.—Thomas Cox, a Rock Island, Ill., contractor, fainted in the grand jury room here today, while being examined in the legislative bribery investigation. Cox was being questioned regarding certain business transactions of State Representative Henry L. Wheeler, of Rock Island, one of the Democratic members of the Legislature, who voted for William Lorimer for Senator.

There was a lull in the legislative probe today, all forces apparently working out a new lead. There was great activity about the criminal court and several detectives were hurried down State, but their mission was guarded with extreme care.

CHICAGO, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Some inside history of Representative Link's confession before the grand jury of how he was bribed to vote for William Lorimer for United States Senator, came out today. Link confessed that he was paid $1000 by Minority Leader Lee Keith Brown, for voting for Mr. Lorimer and that he was given $500 by Representative Robert E. Wilson, in the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, July 15, 1909, as his share in the "jack pot," or general corruption fund.

Link says that one day in May, 1909, two weeks before Lorimer was elected by the Republican-Democratic combination, two prominent men, one a merchant, the other a lumberman, invited him to take a drive. On the trip they discussed everything from the weather to baseball scores and finally Link was asked if he could be induced to vote for a Republican for Senator.

He replied he could, under certain circumstances. Immediately the horses were turned back and a quick drive made to the St. Nicholas Hotel, Springfield, where Mr. Lorimer was staying. Link was ushered into Lorimer's room and Mr. Lorimer asked him if he could find it in his heart to vote for a Republican for Senator.

Mr. Link assured Mr. Lorimer he could—that there were two men, Speaker Shurtliff and Mr. Lorimer, for whom he could vote.

Mr. Lorimer thanked him profusely. One week later Link says he was approached by Minority Leader Brown, who asked him the same question about voting for a Republican, whereupon Link displayed great mirth and said:

"I beat you to it. I fixed that a week ago."

Brown appeared greatly surprised, but pleased, extended his felicitations and sent him on his way.

On May 26 Lorimer was elected, Link being among the Democrats who voted for him. A few weeks later—in July, 1909—Link says he met Minority Leader Brown in St. Louis, who handed him $1000.

Wilson, in the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, July 15, 1909, as his share in the "jack pot," or general corruption fund.

Link says that one day in May, 1909, two weeks before Lorimer was elected by the Republican-Democratic combination, two prominent men, one a merchant, the other a lumberman, invited him to take a drive. On the trip they discussed everything from the weather to baseball scores and finally Link was asked if he could be induced to vote for a Republican for Senator.

He replied he could, under certain circumstances. Immediately the horses were turned back and a quick drive made to the St. Nicholas Hotel, Springfield, where Mr. Lorimer was staying. Link was ushered into Lorimer's room and Mr. Lorimer asked him if he could find it in his heart to vote for a Republican for Senator.

Mr. Link assured Mr. Lorimer he could—that there were two men, Speaker Shurtliff and Mr. Lorimer, for whom he could vote.

Mr. Lorimer thanked him profusely. One week later Link says he was approached by Minority Leader Brown, who asked him the same question about voting for a Republican, whereupon Link displayed great mirth and said:

"I beat you to it. I fixed that a week ago."

Brown appeared greatly surprised, but pleased, extended his felicitations and sent him on his way.

On May 26 Lorimer was elected, Link being among the Democrats who voted for him. A few weeks later—in July, 1909—Link says he met Minority Leader Brown in St. Louis, who handed him $1000.

There was a lull in the legislative probe today, all forces apparently working out a new lead. There was great activity about the criminal court and several detectives were hurried down State, but their mission was guarded with extreme care.

CHICAGO, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Some inside history of Representative Link's confession before the grand jury of how he was bribed to vote for William Lorimer for United States Senator, came out today. Link confessed that he was paid $1000 by Minority Leader Lee Keith Brown, for voting for Mr. Lorimer and that he was given $500 by Representative Robert E. Wilson, in the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, July 15, 1909, as his share in the "jack pot," or general corruption fund.

Pepon set like one dazed during the recital. The prosecution put on Crossman as its first witness, and his testimony created a sensation.

FLINT AIDS OIL
DELEGATION.Skillful Queries Bring Out
Vital Facts.Senators Nelson and Smoot
Keenly Interested.Owners Show When Pickett
Bill Hurts.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Senator Flint took a leading part this morning in the hearing on the Pickett bill before the Senate Committee on Public Lands, of which he is an influential member, and by skillful questioning drew out many facts of vital interest. Chairman Nelson and Senator Smoot showed great interest in the entire question, and at the end of the hearing Thomas A. O'Donnell, chairman of the Coast delegation of oil men, who arrived here last night from California, said he had strong hopes that the committee would not recommend any legislation which would be inimical to the interest of oil men.

Attorney A. L. Wall of San Francisco spoke of the legal difficulties under which oil locations are made at present, and said the projected withdrawal would occasion hardships to many operators whose interests are not now properly protected.

O'DONNELL EXPLAINS.

O'Donnell explained the actual conditions existing in the oil fields of California, illustrating his remarks with maps of the San Joaquin Valley oil fields, showing the Southern Pacific holdings in that territory. He said the conservation of the oil would be impossible except for the benefits derived from the railroad's lands. In the South Coast area, where large sums are being expended in exploration work, the investments would be entirely lost. O'Donnell said that the provisions of the Pickett bill, which would place the oil lands in the public domain, would be practically identical with that in the South Coast area, except that discovery had been made and drillers were now busy on government land. Railroads own and in all these fields.

TALKS OF OIL GEOLOGY.

W. W. Orcutt, chief of the geological department of the Union Oil Company, explained the geological features of the oil districts and showed how the oil lies through the course of the wells on patented lands drain the sands underlying the "conserved" or "reserved" lands. EGG CASE IN SUPREME COURT.

Canned Men Fruit, Preserved in Boro Acid, Seized by Federal Court.

An Appeal.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—With summer fast approaching, the Supreme Court of the United States will be called upon next Monday to adjudicate a case involving fifty cans of eggs. Nearly five months ago the United States District Court of Illinois reached the conclusion that the eggs were not just the thing for human consumption, and directed its marshal "to totally destroy them."

Now the Supreme Court will be asked to pass on jurisdictional questions, but the eggs themselves will not be brought into the court. The marshal may have performed his duty.

The eggs came into this vale of tears probably some time in the early part of 1933, long ago, and had not been against them, to have permitted their rotting around the barnyard by this time, the chicks of their own by their side.

They made their way to the Hipolite Egg Company of St. Louis, Mo., where the shells were stripped from them, and Plymouth Rocks and Leghorns were as one in five-pail cases and were preserved in boric acid.

When they were shipped to Thomas &amp; Carter, bakers, at Peoria, Ill., in the fall of 1933, the government procured an order to seize them. The court held the boric acid was a deleterious ingredient.

The Hipolite Egg Company wants the Supreme Court to dispose of the case at once. One of the reasons given for this request is that this is the first case in the Supreme Court that involves the question of a Federal court under the National Pure Food Act, and the extent to which the law applies to an article of food after it has been shipped into a State.

SUPREME COURT STATISTICS.

With Hughes' Appointment New York Leads With Number of Cases.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—When Gov. Hughes takes the oath as a member of the Supreme Court of the United States, Massachusetts and Ohio will be compelled to take seats of honor at a table behind New York. With Mr. Hughes on the bench, seven New York men will have reached that high honor, a greater number than any other State of the Union has furnished. Massachusetts and Ohio each has sent six men to this bench.

From one point of view, Massachusetts still holds the record. The length of service of her justices is only two years shorter than the life of the court. Only six years since the court was organized in 1789 has there been a bench without a justice from Massachusetts upon it. During the last four years it has had two.

New York's sons have been on the bench a total of 102 years, while the sons of Ohio total but seventy years. Considering the place of birth, Virginia made the States with nine greatest 37,000 acres have been designated by Secretary Ballinger for settlement under the enlarged homestead act. The area involved is not susceptible to irrigation at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply.

The following are the additional designations in the States mentioned for enlarged settlement, and the total designations to date: Oregon, 75,000 acres; Washington, 125,000 acres; Montana, 12,000 acres; total 232,000 acres; Wyoming, 14,000 acres, total to date, 12,619,145 acres.

Tocantines Carries Medal from Brazil for Work of Saving Lives of Sixteen Fishermen.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

NEW YORK, May 11.—The steamer Tocantines, a famous vessel, which ran the mines harbor of Port Arthur to escape from the Russians, swings gracefully at her dock in Brooklyn today after a trip from Brazil, bringing a new tale of adventure and rescue. A gold medal was won by the captain and presented by the Brazilian government commemorates the latest achievement of the little ship—the saving of sixteen fishermen of the Brazilian coast on March 22. The first of the sixteen men was sighted by the lookout before dawn. He was clinging to a plank in the open sea, and was waving a weak arm to the oncoming ship.

A school of sharks swam about him and his rescuers found that his legs had been badly torn by the big fish. The man had been in the water twenty-four hours and had eaten his last meal six days before he was sighted.

He had set out from Rio Janeiro with fifteen companions. A squall took away their rig and left them to drift helplessly. All went down but one man and he was compelled to take to the water to escape his companions' frenzy.

After hearing his story, the Tocantines cruised about for several hours, finally locating the wreck and rescuing all the fishermen.

SETS MEETING ON EDGE.

Iconoclastic Observations by Mrs. Allen at Suffragist Meeting Causes Astonishment.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, May 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The most remarkable suffragist in the world. This was the title today accorded to Mrs. Margaret Allen of the Douglas Park Club, who almost wrecked a suffragist meeting at the West Chicago Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Allen made a speech filled with iconoclastic observations regarding her sex. Here are some of the things she said:

"Woman, as a rule, should vote as her husband does, or, lacking a husband, should follow the example of her father or brother."

"Women read trashy books, squander money on useless display, and are the chief supporters of back number churches."

"Women are frivolous, dogmatic and poorly informed."

Mrs. Allen's remarks caused astonishment. Her voice was taken by which Mrs. Allen was given to infer that it was the sense of the meeting days was both in the wrong church and the wrong peer.

MRS. MORSE IS ACTIVE.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse, who has been in the capital for two days seeking aid from members of Congress in her determination to appeal to the President for the pardon of her banker husband, announced last night that she had procured the signatures of nearly 500 senators and representatives to her petition.

Mrs. Morse declared she has more than 6000 names of some of the most prominent citizens in the nation signed to the appeal.

"Women are frivolous, dogmatic and poorly informed."

MRS. MORSE IS ACTIVE.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Mrs. Charles W. Morse, who has been in the capital for two days seeking aid from members of Congress in her determination to appeal to the President for the pardon of her banker husband, announced last night that she had procured the signatures of nearly 500 senators and representatives to her petition.

Mrs. Morse declared she has more than 6000 names of some of the most prominent citizens in the nation signed to the appeal.

"Women are frivolous, dogmatic and poorly informed."

Mrs. Allen's remarks caused astonishment. Her voice was taken by which Mrs. Allen was given to infer that it was the sense of the meeting days was both in the wrong church and the wrong peer.

MORE HARD LUCK.
ANGELS FAIL
TO HIT BALL.Krapp Holds Them Safely
and Wins With Ease.Thorsen Taken from Game
After Seventh Inning.Both Teams Put Up Classy Fielding Game.

Portland, 5; Los Angeles, 3.
How Hap Hogan's Vernons ever beat these Portland players after what they showed yesterday, against the Angels, will certainly keep some one up a stump for a day or two. Just what they did not have in the way of everything would be easier to guess, for they played real baseball from start to finish and took advantage of every opportunity.

The ease with which they got to Thorsen was the cause of it and at the end of the seventh inning Thorsen threw this one on the bench and put in Nagle but the game was too far gone. Thorsen was hit but four times that counted in runs, but he was wild and uncertain. One thing that helped the Beavers was the good work of their own men. Gus Helling, at third base and he looks like a very hot potato. Big Mac says he dug this one out of the Trolley League in St. Louis, but the records show that he was sold by the St. Louis National League team. Helling played swell ball yesterday, whatever his origin. In the first inning he singled, in the third he doubled to right, in the fifth he was hit by pitcher, and in the seventh he sacrificed. He scored two runs, batted in one and helped another with a sacrifice, and was altogether the big thing in the game. Helling makes Neisel look like a chicken pie.

While there was nothing sensational shown there was enough good playing to please any fan who saw it and there was something every minute. Krapp stopped a lot of hot grounders and was applauded throughout the game. Olsen made some classy assists from back of second base to first. Ryan ran into left field to grab a fly from Delmas' bat in the second inning, and Krapp surprised himself with a fine, running catch of a foul ball of first base. These were only two of the dozen pretty stunts and although the locals lost the game the fans got the worth of it in the game itself.

Krapp did the heaving for the Beavers but was not bothered very much, for he held the locals to five hits. When they needed him, they could not get him and this tells the whole story of the game. The first run for the Beavers started with a pass to Fisher and ended with Ryan's sacrifice and Rapp's rap to left. In the third Olsen singled and scored on Helling's double to right center. Daley got the ball and threw it to Howard who heaved it far above Orendorff's head and Helling ran to third on the error, which was the only one in the game. A moment later McCredie bounced a ball to Roth and he tried to catch Helling at the plate, but tried low and wide. The fourth run in the fifth was due to a hit by pitcher, sacrifice, and Ryan's poke at center. While the final one came from a pass, sacrifice and McCredie's out at first.

For the locals, who were out in the first inning, Howard walked and scored on Dillon's double to right. In the fourth, Howard hit to left, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Murphy's sacrifice to Krapp. In the seventh Murphy walked and scored on his hit by Roth and Delmas.

NOTES OF THE GAME.
Speas was lucky in not having an error charged against him in the eighth inning. With Howard on first from a Texas leaguer Dillon hit a fly back of Olsen which Speas muffed but the ball was so close to him when he dropped it that he had no trouble in forcing Howard at second. Olsen wound up the game with a fine running assist back of second of Orendorff's hard grounder.

Orendorff might have prevented the Beaver's run in the seventh if he had been awake. He ran to first to cover the bag and make the putout on McCredie's grounder, but instead of turning around at once he ran on into right field. While he was doing this Olsen scored from third after reaching that base on the out.

In the eighth Krapp certainly hit the ball higher than it has been sent since Cravath quit the league but Murphy had no trouble in grabbing it near the fence.
Orendorff made a peach of a catch of Speas' foul in the sixth, the ball going almost to the Los Angeles bench.
Daley was caught on first base in the sixth by a snappy throw from Fisher and it might be said that few of the locals ventured off the bags on account of Fisher.
The locals had a fine chance to score some runs in the seventh for there were three men on bases but Speas stopped the chances by a fine running catch of Daley's fly far behind third base.
Rapp had to run far back of first base and turn completely around to catch Orendorff's foul in the fifth and this catch alone saved him to be a high class youngster.

BAUM IN CRISIS.Hogan's Men Take Early Lead With Brown on Mound, But Pitcher Is Fanned Out and the Spider Sent In.

SACRAMENTO, May 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] What the Senators did to the Vernon top-stickers this afternoon is shameful to relate, but history must be recorded. The score was 7 to 4. Lusty and opportune hitting on the part of Graham's chaps was responsible for the victory witnessed by a good-sized weekend audience of fans. Both teams gathered the majority of their tallies in the first three innings of play and Vernon might have nosed out a win but for the good judgment of Manager Graham in yanking out Brown in the third inning after the Suburbanites had got to him for a trio of hits which netted two runs.

"Spider" Baum was sent in to relieve Brown and held his opponents to two hits for the balance of the game. The Spider beat the good with him, smoking 'em over so fast the Hogans were unable to connect safely. His curves were breaking well and altogether Charley had a real pleasant afternoon.

Vernon started the game with lots of "pep." Carlisle, the first man at bat, drove home Brown's fire nicely and getting a walk. Kitty Brashers ripped on a single to right field, scoring Carlisle and clearing the bases. Then he scored when Martine drove a long fly to right field. Roy Brashers then hit into a double. Martine took his grounder at second and got Kitty Brashers easily, and by a quick peg to first, nailed the batter.

The Senators jumped on Shinn in their half of the first, cleaning three tallies in big time. Jimmy Shinn made his debut for the afternoon by drawing a pass. Pearson hit to Schaffer and was thrown out at first. Shinn, valiantly basing the out. Perry was ticked and "Babe" Danzig, who has picked up his batting eye, slammed a long drive to left field, which registered three bags. Shinn and Perry spiking the pan.

Boardman hit a slow grounder to Roy Brashers and was thrown out at first. Danzig really scoring on the play. Briggs shot a dizzy cutter through second base, but retired on first. Raymer skyed to Martine and ending the inning.

Neither side scored in the second inning but the Suburbanites gave the bugs a case of heart disease by grabbing three tallies in the third frame. Schaffer opened up the inning with a clean single to left, while Carlisle followed with a drive to right for a single. Kitty Brashers fanned, but Martine was equal to the occasion and fore of a two-cushion shot along the left-field line that sent Schaffer and Carlisle scampering across the pan.

At this juncture Graham saw that Brown was going to go higher than Paulhan, and Freddie was benched. Spider Baum peeling off his sweater and entering the fray.
Roy Brashers picked out the first one that Baum tossed up and rocketed it to left, scoring Martine. Coy ended the inning by hitting to Baum, who threw to Shinn at second, throwing Roy Brashers, Jimmy completing the double by tossing Coy out at first.

HOGAN FOILED.
Happiest Hogan kidded those in the stand when his players galloped to the field, one tally to the good, but did not figure at the time just what the Senators had in their bat bag. Perry, the first man, up, banged one at Roy Brashers who let it go through his legs. Coy in right field, however, while Perry pulled up at second base, Danzig flew to Roy Brashers, Perry beating the throw to third.

Boardman drove to Schaffer who fumbled, Perry scoring. Briggs picked out a good one, the globe sailed over the right field fence, both Boardman and Briggs trotting the circuit on the homer.
Raymer was an easy infield out, and Spelman ended the inning by spiking to Coy.
In the fourth the Senators added one more to their lead when Spider

Baum hit for a double to left and scored on Pearson's single to center. From the fourth inning on, both teams played snappy, errorless ball, neither side getting a man beyond second base.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—Oakland won an easy victory over San Francisco at Recreation Park this afternoon, gathering three runs in the eighth, when the score was tied, and three more in the ninth.

In the first inning, San Francisco squandered a run out of two hits and a wild throw, but Oakland evened the count in the third.

Oakland began its spectacular session in the eighth, when Cutshaw singled and was scored by Hogan's hit. Williams came home on a wild throw, and another careless heave by Shaw brought in Hogan.

Dodds and Hogan each made home runs.

LOUISVILLE Results.
LOUISVILLE (Ky.) May 11.—After the crush attendant upon Derby Day, the crowd which journeyed to the track today was comparatively small. The card was poor and showers in the morning made the course a little slow. The management today put on the 12 and 11 Paris mutual machines in place of the 10 and 10 machines used yesterday.

Six furlongs: Marbles won, Camel second, Aspire third, time 1:14 2-5. Four furlongs: Louis Kats won, Charksburg second, New Star third, time 0:48 2-5.

Five furlongs: Eyewhite won, Alfred won, Royal Report second, Dr. Hildeberg third, time 1:03 1-5. Four furlongs: Evis won, G. L. Doyle second, St. Dawn third, time 0:49 2-5.

Mile and seventy yards: Tom Doan won, Casawary second, County Clerk third, time 1:14 2-5.

AQUEDUCT (N. Y.) May 11.—The feature of the card at Elmendorf today was the Elmhurst Selling Stakes, which resulted in a victory for Aldrian. Seven furlongs: Black Mate won, Keep Moving second, Rusten third, time 1:47 1-5.

Five furlongs: Whin won, Rada second, Golden Sand third, time 1:02. One and one-sixteenth miles: Cad Cort won, Montgomery second, Lad of Langdon third, time 1:58 2-5. Four and one-half furlongs: Aldrian won, Asawam second, Moncrief third, time 0:55.

TROOPS FIGHT FOR "TEDDY."

Col. Roosevelt Reviews German Maneuvers.

First Civilian So Honored, Says Kaiser.

Doctor Sure He Can Subdue Throat Trouble.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

BERLIN, May 11.—A sham fight, in which 12,000 German soldiers of all arms took part, occupied the attention of Col. Roosevelt and Emperor William this morning. After the battle, which took place at Döberitz Field, the whole body of troops paraded before the ex-President and the Emperor, who were standing side by side some twenty paces in front of the gorgeous staff. They saluted the colors of the various commands, the Emperor touching his helmet and Col. Roosevelt lifting his sword.

Speaking partly in English and partly in German, the Emperor, turning to Col. Roosevelt, said:

"You are the first civilian who has reviewed our soldiers," and then to the German officers:

"We are honored in having here the distinguished colonel of the Rough Riders."

The former President was five hours in the saddle, and spent much time talking with the Emperor. They drew apart from the others, and at times were exceedingly intimate in gestures. Col. Roosevelt wore a dingy khaki uniform, while the Emperor and his generals, in uniforms of blue with gold helmets, made a striking contrast.

Col. Roosevelt said tonight that he felt quite able to deliver his lecture tomorrow before the university.

Dr. Frankel, who has been treating the ex-President's throat, said in all probability he would permit his patient to carry out his plans. It was true, he added, that the colonel's voice was husky and would seem to be unequal to the task, but the doctor was confident that he could clear it up.

A dinner was given at the American embassy tonight, the guests, in addition to the Roosevelt family, including Imperial Chancellor Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, Foreign Secretary Von Schoen, the rector of the university, Henry White, former American Ambassador to France, Mrs. White and Mr. and Mrs. Rath Low.

Vessel from Point Barrow Brings to Tacoma Seven Thousand Dollars' Worth of Walrus and Walrus Ivory and Carries Supplies Back—Takpak Is Shrewd Eskimo.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TACOMA, May 11.—(Exclusive Times.) Takpak is an Eskimo at Point Barrow. All through the ice floes he is known as the richest Alut along the North American shore. Takpak's business with sound merchants this spring amounts to $7000. Next year he hopes to double that amount.

Takpak's business is killing whales and walrus. Last fall the schooner Volante, Capt. John Backlund, arrived from Point Barrow, and carried Takpak's walrus and walrus ivory. If sold for the sum mentioned, Acting as Takpak's instructions, Capt. Backlund placed the money in the bank and this spring invested it in goods which he is taking north again on the Volante, due to sail next Tuesday. He bought 400 sacks of flour, twenty cases of coal oil, many tons of groceries and other supplies, and $1500 worth of sporting goods, including rifles and ammunition. With the sporting goods goes a pedometer, so that Takpak can measure his steps across the hunting fields. Two other Eskimos of Point Barrow, Apsow and Rungusuk, have freight aboard the Volante aggregating $2000.

The Volante has been going into the north for years, and has always managed to reach Point Barrow.

Capt. Backlund two days ago received a letter from Charles Born, a trader on the whaler Karuk, which wintered at Hessel Island. The letter was written on Christmas day, and says Karuk had caught eleven whales, ten of which were big fellows. Born said he had $8000 worth of walrusbone and furs, and would retire on coming out.

Thousands of Visitors View Inspiring Spectacle—Parade, Music, Ceremonies, Flowers, Roses.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SAN JOSE, May 11.—Six thousand school children dressed in white, the pupils of each school wearing a distinctive decorative color, in a parade that extended many blocks through the business portions of the city, was the inspiring spectacle that greeted the thousands of visitors to the Rose Carnival this morning.

It was the opening feature of the great four days' carnival, and it won the applause of the multitude that witnessed it.

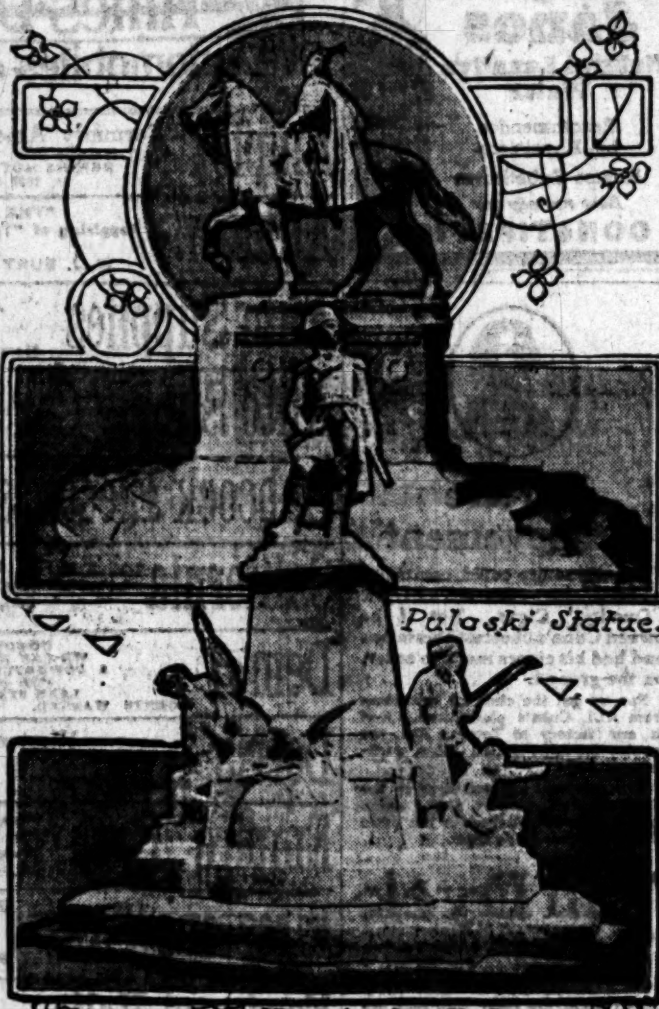

At City Hall Park, Miss May Manhire, preceded by a band and followed by a corps of 700 State Normal students, was duly crowned Queen of the Carnival. She led the parade, seated in the royal victoria, drawn by six white horses, gorgeously appareled, and accompanied by Director-General J. H. Henry.

The ceremony included several vast choruses, with orchestra accompaniment, a shower of roses in honor of the queen, and a finale chorus of 1000 voices.

At 10:30 o'clock the great May Fair, on San Antonio street, was opened, and a half hour later the magnificent floral show in the Auditorium was opened to the public.

Other features of the afternoon were trotting races at the driving park, a united service of song in the auditorium by all the churches, baseball and a billion auction at Luna Park, and the day will conclude with a concert by 1000 school children at 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

PRESIDENT PAYS TRIBUTE TO PULASKI AND KOSCIUSKO.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—In his address at the unveiling of the Pulaski-Kosciuszko statues here today, President Taft paid high tribute to the two Polish warriors.

He grouped them with Lafayette, Rochambeau, De Kalb and others, and said it was fitting that America should give enduring evidence of her gratitude to those who came to her in her hour of trouble.

Mr. Taft declared if Pulaski and Kosciuszko could have lived to see the three million Polish citizens take their honorable place in the American Republic, could have seen the prosperity they had aided, and the happiness they had found under the banner which the two generals helped to defend, they would have felt their labors were in vain.

While the President made the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Pulaski, which stands in the triangle at 13th street and Pennsylvania Avenue, Secretary of War Dickinson was making the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Kosciuszko, which stands in the triangle at 13th street and Pennsylvania Avenue. Secretary of War Dickinson was making the principal address at the unveiling of the monument to Kosciuszko, which stands in the triangle at 13th street and Pennsylvania Avenue.

The monument to Pulaski was erected by an act of Congress, but the statue of Kosciuszko is the gift to the nation from the Polish National Alliance and other organizations of Poles who have made their homes in the free republic for which their distinguished countrymen fought.

There was a double significance to the unveiling of the monument to Kosciuszko, for it marked the opening here tomorrow of the First Polish National Congress to attend which thousands of Poles from all over the United States have come.

The purpose of the congress is to discuss in all its phases the condition of the Polish nation, to acquire familiarity with the needs of the Polish people, and to discuss ways and means of fulfilling them.

The ceremonies which preceded the dedication of the statue were long planned and very elaborate. A mile and down the line and started a section foreman and posse from the next stop this side of the point of the holding, due to leave Maricopa for Phoenix at 5:30 o'clock p.m. starting one hour late this evening, was taken possession of by two bandits who boarded it at Maricopa, about one mile after leaving the station, and then the bandits stationed themselves at one end of the smoking car and ordered all hands up. One stood guard while the other rifled the passengers, taking only money and throwing watches on the floor. They repeated this performance in the second car, the train only carrying two coaches.

There were only eleven passengers on board and all were robbed, the amount taken amounting to a little less than $200.

Among the passengers was Ralph Burges, an assistant deputy sheriff of Gila county, bringing two prisoners to the penitentiary. The officers at first thought the hold-up was the play of armed passengers, realizing the truth only when the bandits got the drop on them and ordered their hands up.

John B. Wright, Attorney-General of Arizona, who is staying at the hotel at this juncture, was requested to stop at this juncture, but "start anything," as it would only make things worse. The mail, express and baggage were not molested.

In about twenty minutes the robbers completed their work, forced a brakeman to stop the train, and then fled in the darkness to a point where it is presumed they had horses waiting.

The men were not masked, and as the authorities have good descriptions, it is believed the robbers will be captured unless they make the Mexican line tonight.

PILES DENIES "INFLUENCE."

Tells Senate of Ballinger's Appointment.

Roosevelt and Garfield Urged His Acceptance.

Prevailed on Secretary to Reconsider Refusal.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Rising to a question of personal privilege, Senator Piles of Washington today explained to the Senate the circumstances under which Secretary Ballinger had received his appointment as Secretary of the Interior, and also those under which he had been appointed Commissioner of the General Land Office.

The explanation was called forth by the intimation of Attorney Brandeis, counsel for L. R. Glavis, at the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation, today, that Mr. Ballinger's appointment as Commissioner had been influenced by Mr. Piles at the instance of persons who were interested in the Cunningham coal cases.

"Two men in the State of Washington or elsewhere ever suggested to me that I should recommend Judge Ballinger for either position," said Mr. Piles. He said that before the time of the appointment of a Commissioner, President Roosevelt's private secretary telephoned him to come to the White House. He said when he arrived there the President asked him if he knew Judge Ballinger.

"I responded that I did," said Mr. Piles, "and he questioned me concerning his character. I told him what I thought of him. He asked if Mr. Ballinger's appointment would not be objectionable to me, he would be glad to have me with him, because, as he said, Secretary Garfield, who had been a schoolmate of Mr. Ballinger, was most anxious to obtain his services."

Mr. Piles said he told the President he would take pleasure in forwarding the telegram, but he did not believe that Mr. Ballinger would abandon his law business to accept the office.

"He asked me to urge him strongly," continued Mr. Piles, "because he said he very much needed such time in his office."

"Complying with the President's request, I called on Secretary Garfield. The next day I received a message from Mr. Ballinger, declining the appointment. When I received the telegram to the President, he said that Mr. Ballinger's refusal was very regrettable, because both he and Secretary Garfield wanted him for the position. He added that he himself would wire Ballinger, and I understood that both he and Secretary Garfield had sent telegrams pleading with him to accept the appointment, although such might entail a personal sacrifice."

GIVES IN TO PRESIDENT.
Two or three days later, Mr. Piles said, he received a message from Mr. Ballinger, announcing his acceptance because of the urgency of the President.

"There are the facts, the absolute facts, and they would be verified by Mr. Roosevelt under oath," asserted the Senator.

In respect to the appointment of Mr. Ballinger as Secretary by President Taft, Mr. Piles said, it was through the newspapers he had received his first intimation that such appointment might be made.

"I subsequently saw Judge Ballinger," he said, "and he told me if he desired the appointment, he replied he did not, explaining he hoped his friend, Mr. Garfield, would be reappointed. Subsequently, I heard Mr. Ballinger was to be called into the Cabinet, but when I spoke to my colleague, Senator Jones, on the subject, I found he had not been consulted any more than I had been. We came to the conclusion the selection of a Cabinet officer was a family matter with the President, and no concern of ours."

Mr. Piles concluded with the statement the President himself would verify all he (Piles) had said.

A commission appointed several weeks ago by Mayor Gaynor of New York to make recommendations for economy in connection with the city printing, has decided upon cuts in expenditures that will save the city at least $200,000 a year.

IT SLUGS HARD

Coffee a Sure and Powerful Brute.

"Let your coffee alive be denied his cup at its appointed time! Headache—stomach—frigidity like unto death. I know it all in myself, and have seen it in others. Strange that thinking, reasoning beings will persist in its use," says a Topeka, Kan., man.

He says further that he did not begin drinking coffee until after he was twenty years old, and that slowly it began to poison him, and affect his hearing through his nervous system.

"Finally, I quit coffee and the condition slowly disappeared, but one cold morning the smell of my wife's coffee was too much for me and I took a cup. Soon I was drinking my regular allowance, tearing down brain and nerves by the daily dose of the nefarious concoction."

"Later, I found my breath coming hard and frequent fits of nausea, and then I was taken down with bilious fever."

"Common sense came to me and I quit coffee for good and went back to Postum. I at once began to gain and have had no return of my bilious symptoms, headache, dizziness, or constipation."

"Now have health, bright thoughts, and added weight, where before there was invalidism, the blues, and a skeleton-like condition of the body."

"My brother quit coffee because of its effect on his health and now uses Postum. He could not stand the nervous strain while using coffee, but keeps well on Postum."

"If I know personally, was incapable of doing a day's work while she was using coffee. She quit it and took up Postum and is now well and has perfectly steady nerves."

"Read the little book, 'The Road to Wellville,' in plain, 'There's a Reason.'"

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

PALLADINO EXPOSED.

and get under the table and hold her feet. Then the phenomena that follow are done by the hand, though you do not know it. Then to you say after that she does not do it with her hands or feet, for I have held them both and am absolutely sure that she did not get away.

First of all we made close observations of her extraordinary "substitution trick." I confess I was crestfallen when I discovered that this old ruse was still her grand strategy. I had been expecting that after its discovery in Cambridge, Eng., long ago, she would have elaborated some new masterpiece. I was playing with the idea of a false arm of one French workman, a spring reel in her clothing, under her arm worked by the abdominal muscles. But the humbug ruse had proved itself so glibly enough to let Eusapia keep calmly on with her first trick.

I was present when the two holders on her right and left that they are holding two hands or two feet, when, in fact, they have held of one at different points. It is done, of course, out of sight. With the feet it can be easily done, as the feet of the holders are all together under the table and a table a foot and a half wide. With the hands it is done either on the table or she sits at the table on the table under cover of the curtain, which often "blows out" over the table and remains there.

ENGLISH WERE FOOLED.
 Our policy in general was not to notice fraud or suggest suspicion. We held her on purpose just as she wished at several sittings in order to watch the substitution trick at work and note the coming and going of the hands or feet. The English relation says: "Of substitution of feet we discovered no instances in eleven sittings. In point of fact, substitution of feet is the basis of somewhat more than half Eusapia's performance."

Our situation was this. If we should hold Eusapia, expertly and prevent the substitution, there would be no phenomena. Then her adherents would say that the "force" had simply failed to work on those occasions. So the first question was, if there is a trick, what is it? We discovered no instances in eleven sittings. In point of fact, substitution of feet is the basis of somewhat more than half Eusapia's performance."

WONDER FADES DOLEFULLY.
 And the heads? How dolefully the wonder of those instantaneous heads as they figured in the foreign reports faded on close acquaintance. The much described small black head with grotesque features that darts out from the curtain in the gloom and suddenly disappears; that is her hand, swathed like a lecher's hand in a white material, which she uses to hold the head. The features were apparently made by her fingers held in a peculiar way.

We saw, once or twice, a most uncanny white hand, almost luminous, a witch's evocation indeed. It was not the mere contrast with the black curtain that made the effect and the whiteness that comes from holding the hand up a while so that the blood runs out, she may have had some whitening powder or luminous substance.

We never asked Eusapia and searched her suddenly. She would certainly have protested. She invited search before the sittings, and that was repeatedly made. The other would have been illegal, and would have also have cut short our investigation.

No materialization whatever appeared except when there was reason to believe that the medium had her left hand free. She is left-handed. The materialization was such as her left hand could produce.

PROSIC CAUSE OF BREEZE.
 Then the breeze. Through all the foreign accounts these breezes blow. Could air under the table, sudden blowing out of the curtain, etc., and chief of all the famous breeze "from the medium's forehead." The breeze is blown out by her arm and hand, and makes a breeze as it is blown. When it blows out slightly this is apparently done by her foot or hand. The breeze is blown out by her arm and hand, and makes a breeze as it is blown.

The "touches" are made of course by the medium's hand, usually the left, and also the right. I saw her mentioning it, by her foot, which she can raise to more than a moderate height without altering the pose of her body. To have seen her touch and grasp and put on and take off the eyeglasses of an elderly divine who sat on her lap in a midnight scene in the room in the Lincoln Square Arcade, New York, where the sittings of which Mr. Carrington was manager were held, it was done (not this time by the foot) through the curtain, which "blew out" up to his face. His chair was violently pulled over or twice. The curtain was over the table. I was "controlling" on the right and letting Eusapia have her way. It was perfectly evident from the position of my hand under the curtain that this gentleman was deceived in the usual manner. He was holding another part of the same hand—her right. How sportive were the spirits that evening, and how slowly at her ease was Eusapia!

The movements in the cabinet are done usually, of course, by hand or foot. The feet were seen by another elderly gentleman, apparently inclined to spiritualism, was holding on the important side, the right. Again the curtain was over the table and there was nothing to hinder substitution. Accordingly the spirit was active. A slender stand, or tabourette, came out in the semi-darkness, came forward slowly through the air over the medium's left arm and seemed to try to climb up the table, where it at length deposited itself. In this very common trick of hers the foot and left hand, sometimes the foot alone, bring the object out of the cabinet, and a hand finally pushes it upon the table.

But she makes some movements without either hands or feet. On one occasion at midnight, in one of our sittings in Payson's hall, New York, she was securely held and nothing was happening. Suddenly, however, there came strange, supernatural noises from the top of the cabinet, quite beyond her reach.

On examination afterward, we found that the cabinet hung in the doorway, had been nailed to board put across the top of it, that this board was vertically sawed half through in the middle, and that by pulling on the curtains, which she had clutched in her hands, which were being held on her lap, she had made one portion of the board rub against the other and the curtain strain on its nails. Hence the preternatural sounds.

ABOUT THE RAPPINGS.

We next come to the raps. These are mysterious enough. The medium early in the sitting will tap or thump three times on the middle of the seance table and later, three faint, dull, but unmistakable raps or thuds are heard in reply. They seem to come from under the table, as if some one were making them against its under surface. But both the medium's hands are visible in a good light on or above the table. She bids us put our ears to the middle of the table. Or, again, the medium, or you, at her request, makes three light taps, and three sharp ones are made in response, not under the table, but near by, from some indefinable quarter. Or, once more, the medium rubs or scratches on the top of the table and a dull scratching is heard below.

These effects are produced in two ways. Having freed her left foot, by substitution, she raps it against the left leg of the table about three inches above the floor. She always tries to have a resonant table that will conduct sounds well, so that the listening ear applied to the upper surface cannot tell just where they originate. The scratching is done with the left foot against the table leg in a similar way. The outside of her shoe extends well beyond the sole, so that she can make a dull noise in rapping, though the shoe is on. However, there is much testimony that she often has her shoe off, and Mr. Rinn, one of our assistants, feels sure that she does the rubbing sometimes with the stockings on foot.

VERY OLD TRICK.
 The other way of producing raps is a very old trick. One hand rests on the corner of the table. The skin of one finger is pressed against the table, and then suddenly made to slip a fraction of an inch. This causes the sound. I have heard Eusapia do this so often and the sound has come from the hand, not from the table. These first raps have no doubt, even if I had not learned how to do the trick myself.

The most baffling of all her wonders to us were the levitations. We all were around the table and our hands rest lightly upon it. The table tilts slightly, first toward one side, then perhaps toward the other. These first tilts are plainly produced by her hands resting on the corners. Then suddenly the end of the table toward the medium rises; that is, only the legs at the other end of the table remain on the floor. Then perhaps three legs come off the floor. Then at least a corner levitates. There is a curious effect like inflation.

It was to surprise the secret of the levitations that, long after the January sittings were over, the plan was adopted of concealing watchers under the chairs of the sitters.

WHAT WATCHERS SAW.
 The watchers saw that she was "substituting." Her right heel rested on the foot of the holder on the right, and her right toe, the toe of the same foot, rested on the foot of the holder on the left. Just as Mr. Rinn was making his reflections, the left foot appeared from under her dress. The table was tilted as usual, by her hands raising its left leg above the floor. She put her left foot under the table leg, and by that means lifted the table.

Meanwhile the observers saw her, when the attention of most was drawn away to the other end of the table, but her left hand on the corner of the table and press down. Thus the table was hoisted between her left foot and her left hand. On other occasions the thing is apparently done with her right hand and foot. But Eusapia seems to work on the left side when she can.

As to the knees remaining motionless when the sitters' arms are placed across them, that is explained in two ways. First, no one equals Eusapia in the supplestness with which she thrusts the table door or bends the knee to do so after the horse is stolen. The very instant that left or right knee is motionless, she draws your hand across it. She deceives you by making you draw your hand across, while in reality she is still working with the knee. The other explanation is that it is quite possible to lift a table a considerable distance from the floor by this method, without the sitters' arms raised. The left knee (strictly, to say) raising the left knee more than the least bit in the world. It is done by keeping the heel on the floor and raising the toe. When raised, the end of the table is raised, the further legs remaining on the floor.

The committee of scientists had four sittings with Palladino in the physical laboratory at Columbia University last January. The committee consisted of Charles L. Dana, M.D., professor of nervous diseases, Columbia University; Frederick Peterson, M.D., professor of anatomy, Columbia University; W. B. Patten, M.D., professor of physiology, Columbia University; and Edmund B. Wilson, professor of biology, Columbia University. (Copyright, 1910, by the New York Times Co.)

CORDIAL TO STANTON.
 Candidates for Governor Arrive in Bakersfield. Walter Stanton to Join the Party.

STANTON TO JOIN THE PARTY.
 BAKERSFIELD, May 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Phil A. Stanton, and his campaigning party, arrived in this city tonight, and immediately began promoting Stanton's candidacy for the Republican nomination for Governor. As the party dashed into the city, covered with a thick coating of dust, accumulated in the ride over the Tehachan Pass in the big automobile, they passed under a banner which announced that Hiram Johnson will speak here on Friday, the 13th.

"I'm afraid that'll bring him bad luck," Stanton remarked. "I'll go out to the oil fields and give him a cheer before Friday."

The campaigner came in the automobile from Mojave today, and on the way visited two of the aqueduct camps, and the big cement works owned by the city, stopped for an hour at Tehachapi, and dropped down to Caliente for half an hour.

Mr. Stanton says that every place where a stop was made, the people were daily received and that he talked with several hundred men in the course of the day.

Lunch was served to the party at the dining hall maintained by the city at the cement works, and the candidate talked with the men there during the noon hour.

At Mojave, before the start was made today, Stanton met all of the business men, and many of the railroad men employed here before visiting the aqueduct camp, a mile and a half north of that city. Great encouragement was given him, he said, in the hearty reception accorded, and the many pledges of enthusiasm along the line of the aqueduct, as well as in the cities visited.

Tomorrow Walter Bacon, formerly of Los Angeles, but now of San Francisco, will join the party here, and various trips to the oil fields will be made during the remainder of the week.

POLICE DELVE INTO SECRETS.

Astonishing Revelations Are Made in New York.

White Slave Traffic System Is Investigated.

Crusade of Miss Moss Leads to Developments.

ST. DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

NEW YORK, May 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The first fruits of the efforts of Miss Elizabeth J. Moss, daughter of Frank Moss, in her crusade against the white slave traffic, were shown today when "Rosa Lee" (strictly confidential), a woman who has been known as "Gypsy Queen" of Chinatown, who was arrested on a charge of harboring Marcelle Pezura, 16-year-old girl of Easton, Pa., was arraigned in the Tombs Court and held by Magistrate Steinhart in $2000 bonds for examination on Friday.

Miss Pezura, who asserts she is the wife of a Chinaman named Tom Lee, and who lives at No. 214 Catherine street, is said by the detectives to be Fannie Steuber, formerly of Easton, Pa., and that it was to her that Rosa Lee sent part of the "Pezura" girl. Fannie Lee and her husband were locked up in the House of Detention as witnesses. Hon. Him, the fourth of the arrested persons, said to be the husband of Rosa Lee, was held by Magistrate Steinhart in $2000 bonds for examination on Friday.

Fannie Steuber is but 19 years old and is known in Chinatown as "Rosa Lee" Schaefer.

Detective Fitzsimmons stated that the Steuber girl at one time had been harbored in the flat of the Lee woman.

Several books of stamps were found, besides a mugshot and two expensive watches. None of the men would give their names.

 ST. BUREAU WIRE TO THE TIMES.

FLORENCE (Italy), May 11.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Former Secretary of Foreign Affairs Pompili, one of the most noted statesmen of Italy, committed suicide today in a private sanitarium over the corpse of his wife.

Pompili was 72 years old and married his wife twelve years ago, when she was sixteen. Even at that age she was one of the foremost literary personalities in Italy and continued her remarkable career of letters during the last decade. Recently she was stricken with a disease of the chest and was taken to a private sanitarium, where her husband remained almost constantly at her side. Today she succumbed.

After Pompili ascertained that she was dead he took a revolver and shot himself dead on the bed. He left a note stating that he and his wife had loved each other and that he would live a day longer than the other.

OAKLAND, May 11.—That aged Maria Ann Goebels was turned out of her home by her son, Rudolph, and her personal effects burned, after he had secured a deed to the home under the auspices of a car for her and the rest of her life, is a charge made by Joseph Goebels, another son, in a suit filed in the Superior Court yesterday. Goebels asserts in his suit to have the deed set aside.

MANY SELLS AGAINST HIM.
Had Alleged Coffee and Tea
Route "Graft."
Kissinger Goes to Trial on False Pretenses.
Sundry Dupes Are Ready to Give Testimony.

Systematic fraud in selling over and over a worthless tea and coffee route is charged against H. E. Kissinger, whose examination of the charges of having obtained money by false pretenses was begun before Justice Summerfield yesterday.

He is accused of a swindle, which is not large in each transaction, but the aggregate is declared to have been worked on a gigantic scale.
Through catchy advertisements he is alleged to have caught the eyes of the innocent and caused them to visit him. Once within the portals of his office, they are said to have been hopelessly entrapped. None left without giving up from $25 to $500 as part payment or settlement in full for a tea and coffee route.

The manner in which Kissinger exploited his proposition looked like a good thing. He is alleged to have declared that there were 30 regular customers on a route, and that $25 weekly could easily be cleared.
The prosecution declares that it can produce the dupes of the defendant by the dozen. Representatives of the District Attorney's office, who are purchasers of a route found that he could not make enough to pay his board.

NERVOUS OLD HORSE.
One old horse, when was part of the prosecution, is alleged to have been sold so many times that he became a shadow through worry about his change in drivers every few days. He was in such shape that he finally one purchaser had a clash with the S.P.
C.A. officers, and had to destroy the beast before he had called on a single customer.

Kissinger is very sensitive about what is said regarding him, and recently filed a $10,000 libel suit against Deputy Dist. Atty. North, because the latter is alleged to have made some uncomplimentary remarks as to the manner in which the coffee-route business is conducted. It appears that the suit will not be prosecuted, as North has not been served with a summons in the case.

Kissinger was once given a hearing before Justice Linn, and was released from custody. North, at that instance prosecuted the case. The attorney was not satisfied with the decision, and filed another Complaint before Justice Summerfield.

The complainant in the hearing which was begun yesterday at F. L.
Weller, Asst. Dist. Atty. McComas has charge of the prosecution. He promised the court that he would produce numerous witnesses who would show that Kissinger repeatedly made false representations about the route
in order to sell it to them.

CUTS HEAD WITH BIBLE.
Street-Spouting Crank Throws It and Hits Man Because Box Is Kicked from Under Him.

That the Bible can be used as an effective weapon was again demonstrated on South Los Angeles street last night. Sunday night several men were completely knocked out when a negro began shouting the good book to protect a woman member of the Velunteers of America from a mob of angry I.W.W. reds. Last night Samuel Hall, a workman, sustained a severely cut head in a similar manner.

The trouble started when a man kicked a soap box from under one
"Lewis the Light," a crank who holds nightly sessions between First and Second streets. Lewis seems to be impressed with the idea that he is the Almighty and he is not backward about trying to make others believe it.
Last night he was holding forth to a lot of men, and the better to be heard he mounted a soap box.

"I'm God, and what I say goes," he informed the audience.
"What are you going to do with Halley's comet?" asked some one.
"I'm not going to bother about the comet. Halley has no comet. If there is a comet it belongs to me."
"Aw, the devil," exclaimed a disgusted workman, as he kicked the box from beneath Lewis.

Lewis went down in a heap, and then things began to happen.
"You did that. You'll be eternally damned for this," he shouted at Halley as he got up and leaved his Bible at the man's head, making a hit. Halley resented the attack, especially as the guilty man was at the moment just turning the corner of First and Los Angeles streets, so he heaved the book back at Lewis. Other men joined in the mix-up and for a few minutes it looked like a riot, but some one shouted "Tigger the cops," and all scattered.

WAS "VILENT FELLOTH."
Good Samaritan of Modern Trials to Quiet Him and Now He Lies.
Shortly before 7 o'clock last night
C. K. Nelson, No. 761 East Clinton street, was a modern Good Samaritan.
At 8 o'clock he lay in the Receiving Hospital, expectorating his teeth and cursing his fellow men.
A few minutes after he had eaten his supper he walked down Clinton street rambling on the beauties of life and lamenting man's inhumanity to man. He had not journeyed far when a handsome young woman rushed out of a house in the 700 block and called to him in piteous tones. "Help me, please," she said.
"Here I am frightened at his actions. Won't you see if you can quiet him?" she said.

POLICE BOARD MAY CORRECT.
Will Probably Reconsider
Hartnagle Case.
Prosecution or Immunity in Chief's Hands.
District Attorney Gives a Straight Tip.

Mayor Alexander, stirred by the publication of the manner in which Patrolman Jacob Hartnagle, who stole and sold four cans of opium, was permitted to resign Monday night, hurried to take effect immediately at the pleasure of the board.

Although the contents of the Chief's letter were enough to arouse a cana-lous reader to its importance, the Commission permitted the resignation to be accepted at midnight just the same as if Hartnagle had been an efficient, honorable officer, who wished to leave the service with a good record.

It was known early in the evening that the resignation was before the commission. Before 11 o'clock the Chief was asked if he had any other matters to bring up later, the commission having begun a trial, usually the last business, and the Chief said he had nothing. It was nearly an hour later when he produced the resignation from his pocket and it was accepted without reading.

"JOBBER" BY SOMEBODY.
The commission now realizes that it was "jobbed" by some one, but suspicion is not directed to any of its members or the Chief. The plea that Hartnagle made about illness in his family and his penitence for what he says he did not know was wrong are understood to have been the sole causes of the secretiveness of the commission. But the feeling now is that some one "put something over." All ready for service in Los Angeles next Sunday. An illustration of their workings.

to the office of the District Attorney yesterday and asked that official to investigate the criminal features of Hartnagle's case.

In the afternoon the Police Commission met with the Mayor and he reported his action. Chief Galloway was not present, nor was his whereabouts known at police headquarters, but he was reported out of the city. After the session the Mayor announced that it is probable the "resignation" of Hart-nagle will be reconsidered at the next meeting of the commission. The minutes may be corrected to include a letter of the Chief which was presented to the commission at its usual star-chan-er session Monday evening, before the regular open session in the Council chamber. This letter recites in full the criminal conduct of Hartnagle, as follows:

CHIEF'S LETTER.
"On April 26, 1909, at 9:55 p.m., a raid was made by Officers Hartnagle, Level and Paults on an opium joint kept by one Ah Chee at No. 761 North Alameda street. In this raid four and three-quarters cans of opium were seized.
Ah Chee was found guilty and fined.
At the trial the three-quarter can of opium was introduced as evidence, but the four full cans had never been received into evidence. Recently I received information which led me to believe that Officer Jacob Hartnagle had disposed of the four cans of opium for a consideration and I called Officer Hartnagle into my office. When confronted with the evidence, Officer Hart-nagle admitted he had sold the four cans of opium to one George Morris, a hoodlum, for $24. The officer responded that he was a serious mistake, that he very frankly admitted the transaction after a year had elapsed and the proof of his guilt was overwhelming.

WONDER PLAN OF GOVERNOR.
Head of Sinaloa State Has Great Ambition.
Proposes to Build Cities in Proper Locations.
Splendid Development Under Way in Mexico.

Diego Redo, Governor of the State of Sinaloa, has been a guest at the Alexandria for several days. He is one of the youngest, and at the same time most aggressive, Governors of any State in Mexico, as evinced by the wonderful plans he has outlined for bringing his State to the front, plans which are not ephemeral, but are already being carried out with all rapidity possible.

"Sinaloa is undoubtedly the richest State in Mexico, as far as natural resources are concerned," said Gov. Redo last evening. "It has thousands of acres of uncultivated farm lands, thousands of acres of gold fields, abundant water, carried in ten rivers, other water obtainable by sinking wells, fuel in quantities awaiting merely some one to develop it.

"We have been lying practically dormant for many years. There are only about 300,000 people in an area which is larger than that of Spain. The chief cities are Culiacan and Sinaloa. These were founded in the places where the Indian tribal towns were located when the first Spanish explorers traversed the country, as were all other places of inhabitation.

"As a result, they are not situated as best they might be, some of them lying along the low river levels which are overflowed each year, producing swamps as well as fertile fields, if fields are cultivated. That is one reason why some of the cities have received a bad name on account of malaria or other fevers.

WILL BUILD NEW CITIES.
"Our plan at this time is one of the most systematic possible. We will build greater and better cities than exist at present, and will build them for the future. They will be situated with a view to combining the greatest elements for rapid growth, in valleys where there is water, where power is easily produced, where the water is sufficiently near to afford their wealth, where the power produced by water will create industries and where the water can then be turned to basic advantages in irrigation."

While speaking of these things, the idea was conveyed that Gov. Redo had been in office for a number of years.
His grasp of the situation and his far reaching plans for the making of one of the greatest States in the world produced this supposition. A question as to how long he had been in office created astonishment at the swift response with which he was moving toward his ultimate purpose.

"I have been in office only seven months," he answered when the question was put, and he further admitted that the work of development had not been going on rapidly for a much shorter time.
"One of the first things which I, with the assistance of the legislators of the State, accomplished was the establishment of an engineering corps. This corps will cost the State something like $80,000 a year and is composed of the finest engineers obtainable. Our plan is the following. As fast as possible an engineer is sent up or down one of our rivers. He proceeds along with only his notebook and level, takes notes of the passing country, being particularly careful to obtain proper location of the big valleys and the level of the streams.

TAKE A WALK
ON THIS CAR.
YOU GET ON AT THE REAR, AND OFF IN FRONT.

Pay-as-You-Enter Service Ready for Central Avenue Line Next Sunday Morning, and Pico Street and Hooper Avenue Coaches Soon to Be Similarly Arranged.

Thirty-seven pay-as-you-enter cars have been completed for the Central-avenue line of the Los Angeles Railroad, and will be placed in service Sunday morning. Forty more were sent to the shops yesterday for remodeling into this type, and when completed will be placed in service on the Pico-street and Hooper-avenue lines.

With the 100 new cars which have been ordered from St. Louis, and which will probably be delivered by November, Los Angeles will soon see the installation on a large scale of this type, every car that is sent to the shops from now on for extensive repairs will be remodeled before it is put back in service.

This remodeling is not only confined to the entrance and exit of the cars,
but under the direction of Master Mechanic Stephens new forty-five-horsepower Westinghouse motors are taking the place of the smaller motors
now in use, and the speed of the cars will be materially increased. Each car is lengthened six feet, and push button signals installed.

Placards have already been placed in the cars giving directions for the use of the new cars.
The conductor of the new car will remain constantly at the rear. The passenger will board there, and will receive his transfer at the time of entrance, when the fare is paid.
Exit will be from the front, and the air pressure exit gates will not be opened until the car stops. This is done to avoid accidents in getting on and leaving the cars.

TWO ACCUSED OF ASSAULT.
Two Mexicans were arrested before Justice Summerfield, yesterday, on charges of assault with a deadly weapon. John Blecker was accused of having struck Refugio Perez in default of $1000 bail, he was taken to jail to be examined on the 17th inst.
Saturino Candela was alleged to have hit Manuel Dominguez with an iron bar. His bail was fixed at $1000 and his hearing set for the 25th inst.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canada's Minister of Finance.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canada's Minister of Finance is assured of his party's faith by the substantial fact of a gift of $120,000. The presentation was made in the presence of the Liberal members of the Dominion Parliament. It was recognized that he had so closely devoted his time for the benefit of the government, and that he had failed to acquire even a fair competence. The gift will relieve Mr. Fielding of any worry about the future, and will allow him to continue in the service of the government.

One hundred acres plowed and sown in a single day represents the thoughtfulness of the neighbors of E. W. Straley, a farmer residing five miles from Des Moines, N. D., who has been sick all winter and spring. The neighbors came to Mr. Straley's place with twenty-two oxen, and all helped to work in the fields so that lookers-on saw gang plows, harrows, drills and combinations all going at once. The wives and daughters of the workers also came to aid in the mission, and by preparing meals for the workers. Mr. Straley was able to be out that day for the first time in many months, and was placed in a buggy and driven from place to place over his farm that he might watch the operations.

Columbia College has again profited by the kindness of its friends, the announcement being recently made that $60,000 in gifts have recently been received, one-half of the amount coming from an anonymous contributor. Of the balance, $18,000, comes from the children of the late Dr. Abraham De Bois, for a research fellowship at the medical school in memory of their father.

One day while Governor Gillett was taking a recent morning drive in Sacramento behind his span of blooded bays, spirited animals, the pride of the Governor, a small dog ran out into the street and barked a salute. As the little friendless animal stood there a grocer's wagon suddenly drove upon him. He dodged in terror directly under the Governor's carriage. The wheels passed over one of its legs, breaking it.

The agonized yelping caused the Governor to halt the carriage and alight. Tenderly he caressed and soothed the stricken dog, which licked his hands gratefully. The Governor gave up his drive for the time being, took the animal home and placed it under a dog surgeon's care.

THE MEN AND WOMEN

Who Enjoy the Choicest Products of the World's Commerce.

Knowledge of What is Best More Important Than Wealth Without It.

It must be apparent to every one that qualities of the highest order are necessary to enable the best of the products of modern commerce to attain to universal acceptance. However loudly heralded, they may not hope for world-wide pre-eminence unless they meet with the general approval, not of individuals only, but of the many who have the happy faculty of selecting and enjoying the choicest products. Their commendation, consequently, becomes important to others, since to meet the requirements of the well informed of all countries the method of manufacture must be of the most perfect order and the combination the most excellent of its kind. After thirty years of general usage, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna are everywhere accepted as the best of family laxatives. Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the laxative and carminative principles of plants known to act most beneficially on the system, but also to the method of manufacture of the California Fig Syrup Co., which ensures that uniformity and purity essential in a remedy intended for family use. It cleanses and sweetens the system effectually, when a laxative is needed, without any unpleasant after effects. To get the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, buy the genuine only; the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package. Price, 50 cents per bottle.

VOW VENGEANCE ON STAGE CARPENTER.

Caucus of Believers, Mason Opera-house Boys Results in Denunciation of Lord High Executioner, Gallagher, and Cry for Four-Bits Promised for Tuesday.

Sanguinary war threatens all superdom because of the outbreak behind the scenes at the Mason Opera-house Tuesday night, when for mere sordid dross totalling the sum of one dime per super, forty budding flowers of the dramatic art were reluctant to cheer in the second act for Maude Adams. It is true that the night was saved by the thrilling one-act of Stage Manager Gallagher, who "turn out" the leader of the revolt, and rushed the remainder of the rebellious crowd through their stunts as per programme.

But there came a bitter aftermath yesterday. The indignant supers got together and voiced their real and imaginary wrongs, until they became so excited that they decided to write them down and send them to The Times, because they did not feel that any other newspaper in town would give them the kind of a deal they wanted. When this meeting was in order, it was a mighty good thing that Jim Gallagher was not in the immediate neighborhood—that is, this was the opinion of some of the supers. And if Jim Gallagher's ears didn't burn all day long it undoubtedly was because he was wearing ear muffs.

At the mass meeting of the supers there were present H. Newell, T. H. Wrigley, J. H. Strong, W. H. Strong, Ed Baker, T. Nattier, J. F. Holbrook, J. Youngson, P. Pickering, P. Fitzgerald, H. Waldo, C. A. Jamieson, H. Zeiger and F. C. Johnson, and many others. The burden of their wall was that they had been promised 50 cents per each performance, and that they were to be paid but 25, and they protested. Then the big thing

In the report of the caucus of the disgruntled supers that was handed to The Times yesterday, the following appears: "Furthermore, it was agreed that we should be paid 50 cents for this (Tuesday) performance, even if we never put in another show. After that, we had all done what was required of us, we were politely (?) told that we would wait until our money. We were then permitted to go out, which we did with what good grace we could command, all chafing inwardly at the double un-American treatment which had been doled out to us."

Then, after giving the Frohman management an immunity bath, the supers continue: "Nor do we blame the little lady whom we, in common with all America, admire."

Can you beat it? But the stage manager, one Gallagher? Oh, the things they said about him will keep the back of the scenes at the Mason warm for months to come. They declare that they are not going to sit by apathetically and permit Lord James to hold out their Tuesday night pay envelopes.

At the box office of the theater it was stated, in response to inquiry, that the uprising of the Thespian-in-the-probability did not amount to anything; that Gallagher certainly is the real sunshine as a stage carpenter, and that it is an approved custom for such employees to get a commission from such supers as they may employ. For the Maude Adams engagement it was understood that the Gallagher rake-down was to be one performance's pay each, or 50 cents. For the employment of the forty supers required, Gallagher would collect the tidy little sum of $20, which might not go far toward fringing Ireland, but certainly would buy several dishes of ice cream.

The next step in the disaster may be to form a supers' union, and have the entire matter referred to some of the totem chiefs—Dr. C. Nelson Wright, Hon. Bill Peck and King Chalky.

NOON SHOP MEETINGS.
William Murphy Pushing a Campaign of Gospel Temperance Among Industrial Establishments.

William Murphy has begun his gospel temperance campaign among the industrial establishments of the city, and will continue holding meetings each day at noon. At the Llewellyn Iron Works, on Monday, he secured 100 signers to the pledge, and yesterday at the Cudahy Packing Company's establishment, 200 men signed for total abstinence. Today he will spend the noon hour with the men of the Lacey Iron Works, and tomorrow he has arranged for a big meeting at the Southern Pacific shops. At a preliminary meeting, held at the last-named place on Tuesday, for the purpose of advertising tomorrow's meeting, a number of men signed the pledge, and Mr. Murphy looks for great results tomorrow. He will continue the work until he has carried his message to every establishment in the city.
